Rutgers Football

Rutgers, The State University

Rutgers, The State University, began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers was originally called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Henry Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

In 1902 a ceramics department was established, New Jersey College for Women with its own New Brunswick campus, was founded in 1918; the School of Education added in 1923; and in 1925 the Extension Division for non-degree education and the School of Journalism were established. The College of Pharmacy was added in 1927, University College, degree-granting evening division, was established in 1934, and Newark University was merged with Rutgers in 1946. In 1945, the State Legislature brought all divisions of Rutgers within the designation of the State University of New Jersey. In 1950, an act of the State Legislature incorporated the College of South Jersey in Camden, including a two-year liberal arts college and a law school, into the State University as the Rutgers College of South Jersey. The liberal arts college has since expanded to a four-year curriculum. In April, 1955, N.J.C. was renamed Douglass College. In 1956, under a reorganization program, the University was officially designated, Rutgers, The State University, and came under the management of an 11-man Board of Governors.

Dr. Mason W. Gross, the 16th president of the University, was inaugurated in May, 1959.

Rutgers, The State University, currently is in the midst of a nearly $50,000,000 construction program largely financed through passage in 1959 of a state bond issue for higher education.

The Outlook — 1962

The "name" players who helped put together the 17-1 record of the last two years have departed, but Rutgers still expects to field a winning team in 1962.

These are the most important questions: Will Coach John Bateman be able to mold two almost completely new backfields? Will Bob Yaksick and Dwain Painter succeed as quarterbacks? Can depth be uncovered at center and the ends? What will be the results of a more difficult schedule? And, of what importance will be the "desire" of every Rutgers foe to be the one to stop the Scarlet's 12-game winning skein?

There are lots of "ifs" involved, perhaps more than in the last two years. Rutgers has emphasized a fullback-quarterback "offense" under Bateman. These players have graduated, but Yaksick and Painter are ready to take over at quarterback, with Drew Carollo and Ritchie Poad, a pair of letter-winning juniors, the heirs apparent at fullback. Their progress will mean a lot.

Bill Thompson, potentially one of Rutgers' greatest all-time running backs, heads a large contingent of halfbacks who may take the load off the other two positions. Thompson will be the Scarlet's number one offensive weapon; when he's right, he's virtually unstoppable.

Co-captains Tony Simonelli and Tom Tappen, good leaders, spearhead the solid and experienced line. They and George Elias and Gus Giebelhaus will give Bateman the same four tackles with which he operated last year.

Tony Hoefflinger, spectacular last year, heads a guard nucleus which includes John Hurt and Addison Bradley, and Jon Paulson should be an outstanding center, especially on defense. Bill Craft and Bob Flower are established ends, with Craft having the potential of being an annoyance to enemy secondaries.

While a large number of good sophomores will be on hand, none are being touted for regular duty. Enough jayvees are expected to improve to fill the first two units with the 18 lettermen. If any sophomore cracks the regular cast, it might be guard Bill Sparks or quarterback Bob Mudie, brother of Sam, last year's most valuable player.

As for the schedule, Villanova should be tougher than Bucknell and Virginia is an up-and-coming new power. Also, most of 1962's opponents, particularly Princeton and Delaware, are expecting big things.

Bateman sums 1962 up this way: "We can't lose sight of what has made us successful—hard work! We should be able to solve most of our problems. But we can't expect to get by on our reputation. Everyone will point for us, and we'll have to be more ready than we've ever been. All in all, I think we're in good shape and should have a successful year."

Has size and strength, may fit into picture more this season . . . Also wrestles . . . Business major . . . Graduate of Greenbrier Military School.

Centers

GARRETT FLAKER, junior. Gary is something of unknown quantity. Twice suffered hairline fracture in forearm last season, therefore saw no action . . . Is known as "holler guy" and leader . . . Is likely number two center on "paper." . . . Attended Ramapo Regional High . . . Liberal Arts student.

JEFFREY GROTE, sophomore. Achieved number one ranking at center on last season's freshman eleven . . . With only one letterman returning, has excellent opportunity to play regularly . . . Attended Thomas Jefferson High, Elizabeth. . . . Liberal Arts student.

BOB NORTON, sophomore. Was immediate back-up man to Grote a year ago . . . Was captain of baseball and football teams at Watertown (Mass.) High School. . . . Catcher on Rutgers freshman nine last spring . . . Liberal Arts major.

JON PAULSON, junior. Jon was one of the major finds of 1961 . . . Had been unranked fullback on 1960 freshman team . . . Centered on the "Black" team and turned in standout job, especially on defense . . . Has great range as linebacker . . . Attended Tenafly High . . . Philosophy major.

Quarterbacks

JOE BUJAK, junior. Joe hopes to shake off a leg injury which plagued him most of 1961 . . . Saw no varsity duty, but worked with jayvees . . . If he keeps healthy, he will battle for alternate team job . . . Graduate of Benedictine High (Cleveland) . . . Hopes to attend medical school . . . Liberal Arts major.

BOB MUDIE, sophomore. The first-string freshman quarterback, Bob carries a name which has meant much to Rutgers the last three years . . . Brother Sam was the M.V.P. last year, now is with Steelers . . . Bob is good runner, has surprising maturity . . . Also plays lacrosse . . . Graduate of Eddington (Pa.) High . . . Liberal Arts major.

DWAIN (BUTCH) PAINTER, junior. Perhaps the best passing quarterback on the squad . . . Is pre-season odds-on choice to be number two signal-caller . . . Had brief varsity outing last year, played mostly with jayvees . . . Not exceptionally fleet of foot . . . Married . . . Graduate of Gateway High (Monroeville, Pa.) . . . Physical Education major.

BOB YAKSICK, senior. A defender with no peer, Bob must now take over the offense . . . Got little chance at quarterbacking what with Mudie and Speranza on call . . . Played almost exclusively as corner line-backer, now will go to deep secondary . . . Good runner, play-caller and passer . . . Leadership potential. . . . Attended Clairton (Pa.) High . . . Physical Education major.

Halfbacks

BILL BENNETT, junior. A former frosh quarterback, Bill played jayvee ball at fullback last year . . . He is counted on basically as defensive specialist . . . Responsibility will be the corner . . . Got good schooling at Clairton (Pa.) High . . . Liberal Arts student.

JAY BOHNEL, senior. A frosh regular in 1959. Jay did not play as sophomore and had tough road last fall . . . By mid-season, however, he caught up with mates and played enough to letter . . . Perhaps is most dangerous break-away runner on squad . . . Graduate of Pearl River (N. Y.) High . . . Business major.

Also excels on defense and figures to be number one extra point kicker . . . Was top back at Marple-Newtown High (Newtown Square, Pa.) . . . Economics major.

KEITH KRAYE, senior. Keith may be a key defender for the Scarlet . . . Had three pass interceptions last season as reserve . . . Can go two-ways, but is more valuable to squad defensively . . . Played a bit at fullback in 1960 . . . Graduate of Scranton (Pa.) Central . . . Physical Education major.

DOUG REESER, junior. Doug earned second team ranking last fall, but reached plateau early . . . Has great speed and good size, has potential to be star back. . . . Is sprinter on track team, has been clocked in 10.2 . . . Attended Scranton (Pa.) Central . . . Industrial Engineering major.

PAUL STRELICK, junior. Hampered last fall by a knee injury, Paul's service was limited to the jayvees . . . Has running ability, but also may be used as deep defensive specialist . . . Graduate of Charleroi (Pa.) High . . . Biological Sciences major.

BILL THOMPSON, senior. Bill may be the key player on the team . . . Has all the attributes for stardom—speed, strength, size, balance and vision . . . Has averaged almost six yards a carry over two seasons . . . Literally can run through "brick wall" . . . All-events man in track . . . Has Rutgers shot put record . . . New Brunswick High graduate . . . Majoring in General Agriculture.

Fullbacks

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 21; Lettermen Lost: 11

Princeton's 1962 fortunes will depend on how much stronger the Tiger forward wall is than a year ago. With eight lettermen returning at guard and tackle and two at center, it would appear Princeton will be better equipped up front.

The Tigers have backfield talent and depth aplenty and will scare everyone with their unlimited supply of speedy tailbacks. The freshman team was one of the finest in recent years and many of its graduates figure to push the veterans—especially late in the year. The top players are guard Tim Callard, wingback Dan Terpack and end Barry Schuman, plus tailbacks Greg Riley, Hugh MacMillan and Pete Porietis.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 16, Princeton 13

An 83-yard pass play from Bill Speranza to Lee Curley, and a two-point run by Dave Brody with 3:27 to play gave Rutgers a 16-7 edge which, although reduced by a late Tiger touchdown, stood up for the Scarlet's fourth consecutive win in this series.

Princeton scored first in the second period on a Bill Merlini plunge and a kick. Rutgers took the lead, 8-7, on Steve Simms' TD and a two-point run by Sam Mudie. Princeton was stopped on the one in the third period and the Scarlet was thwarted on the five in the fourth quarter before the hectic scoring of the last few minutes.

CONNECTICUT PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Lost: 16

Coach Bob Ingalls will change his offense somewhat, shifting from an unbalanced to a balanced line. Last year's major weakness—the lack of a top-flight quarterback, may be overcome if sophomores Lou Aceto and/or Jack Redmond can fill the bill.

As many as five sophomores might be in the starting lineup. The squad's strongest area is halfback, where six lettermen return. Tackle John Contoulis, a 260-pounder, heads a big, strong line. Chief running threats are halfbacks Dave Korponai and Tony Magaletta.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 35, UConn 12

Rutgers struck early and often and piled up a 28-0 lead on the Huskies before the visitors could get their offense into gear. Bill Speranza capped a 64-yard first quarter march to sneak for a score and Sam Mudie passed 42 yards to Lee Curley for a TD early in the second quarter. A Mudie interception set up a 6-yard blast by Steve Simms for another second quarter tally.

An early fumble led to Pierce Frauenheim's 11-yard run at the start of the fourth period for the fourth score. Dave Korponai ran 25 yards for the first Huskie score and Pete Barbarito made it 28-12 early in the 4th quarter. Doug Reeser scored the final Rutgers touchdown.

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 13; Lettermen Lost: 18

One of the East's big stories early last year with a four-game streak over Bucknell, Harvard, Princeton and Yale, Colgate in 1962 has a new (old) coach in Hal Lahar, who guided the Red Raiders from 1952 through 1956 with a great deal of success.

Lahar will find the Red Raiders strong in the backfield (except fullback) and at tackle, but needs to uncover help, either starting or reserve, elsewhere. He expects to use a slot-T attack which will feature the passing and running of Capt. Dan Keating, one of the best quarterbacks around.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 26, Colgate 6

The score hardly reveals Colgate's almost complete domination of this game except for one area—passing. The Red Raiders couldn't complete a pass, to their own receivers, that is. Sam Mudie intercepted three and the Scarlet picked off two more.

Mudie raced 52 yards in the second quarter, 29 in the third and 38 in the fourth period with intercepted passes. He also scored on a sneak and threw a 31-yard TD pass to Bill Craft. Colgate's only score, despite a total of 280 yards rushing, came following a Rutgers fumble in the second quarter. The Scarlet let, 7-6, at the half, 13-6 at the third quarter.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 15; Letermen Lost: 6

After 12 years as an assistant, Mike Cooley moves into the Lehigh head coaching picture to find a team well stocked with veterans everywhere except a fullback and tackle. The Engineers were the Lambert Cup winners a year ago and appear to be fairly well equipped to defend their laurels.

A pair of top quarterbacks in John DeNoia and Walt King, five lettermen halfbacks and solid ends give Cooley a good start toward a strong offense. He'll have to develop tackles and guards, however, to replace the graduates. Chief losses are Reed Bohovich and Mike Semcheski, standout tackles.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 32, Lehigh 15

Lehigh startled Rutgers with a lightning-like strike for a TD at 3:59 of the first period on a run by Ed Winchester after John DeNoia hit a long pass. But Rutgers came back on a 62-yard march, climaxed by Steve Simms' 24-yard run, to make it 6-7, and took the lead, 14-7, at the half after a 53-yard march, with Sam Mudie sweeping from the two.

Mudie went 10 yards on a quarterback sneak in the third period to make it 20-7, and Pierce Frauenheim returned a punt 70 yards in the 4th quarter before DeNoia retaliated with another long heave to set up Winchester's second TD. Mudie swept from seven yards out for the final score.

PENN PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 23; Lettermen Lost: 11

The key to Penn's comeback plans for 1962 lie in discovering a passer to take the pressure off the running game. If an aerial artist can be developed, Coach John Stiegman feels confident the next season will be more enjoyable than last year. Too, the Quakers are hoping to avoid injuries such as the crippling one to tailback John Owens, which kept the speedster inactive most of the year.

With 23 lettermen and some fair sophomores available, Stiegman hopes to platoon more. Owens, guard Mike Branca and end Ron Allshouse are expected to be standouts. Versatile Pete McCarthy is a top-grade fullback and defender.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 20, Penn 6

Penn refused to give much ground to the Scarlet last year and it wasn't until late in the second period that a 75-yard march was capped by Bill Thompson's off-tackle smash for a 6-0 halftime lead. Rutgers marched 87 yards in the third quarter to make it 12-0 against the stubborn Quakers.

After a short Penn punt, the Scarlet scored again early in the 4th period on a five-yard belt by Steve Simms. Penn's offense came to life at this point and the Quakers march 88 yards, mostly on passing, to make the final count 20-6.

LAFAYETTE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost: 11

Better size and depth plus a large number of talented sophomores provide Coach Jim McConlogue with sound reasons for hoping for a better 1962. Perhaps the key man is George Hossenlopp, a passing whiz as a freshman, who may prove tough for opponents to stop.

McConlogue was encouraged by a "new attitude" in spring practice. His success-inspired sophomores prompted an optimism the coach "hadn't seen before." Temper- ing the outlook, however, is a lack of experience.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 37, Lafayette 6

Lafayette was its usual scrappy self against the Scarlet, but it had neither the size nor depth to cope with the pressure. Rutgers scored twice in the first period on a run by Bill Thompson and a Sam Mudie-Marv Engle pass. The Leopards fought hard in the second period, scoring on a Charley Zarelli pass to Bill McClure following a fumble, but Pierce Fraunheim and Sam Mudie added six-pointers before the halftime to make it 25-6.

Bill Speranza capped an 80-yard march for a score to open the second half and reserve Bill Herring scored from in close in the fourth period. The blitzing of Joe Kowalski on defense helped hold Lafayette to a net of 10 yards rushing.

DELAWARE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost: 13

Dave Nelson feels the 1962 team may reach the pinnacle of the '59 team, which won the Lambert Cup with an 8-1 mark. The 1962 roster includes size, experience and depth, plus some top sophomores.

The Blue Hens have more backs than they can use, headed by the speedy Mike Brown and the powerful Karl Lorenz. A sophomore quarterback, Jack Istnick, sparkled in the spring intra-squad game. Center John Scholato, tackle Dick Evers and guard Jim Quirk are standouts. Delaware appears to be a strong contender for not only the Lambert Cup, but for the Middle Atlantic Conference title.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 27, Delaware 19

Rutgers winning streak almost came to an end as Delaware took a 13-0 lead on 77-yard 1st quarter march climaxed by a Ted Kempinski-Mike Brown pass, and a 50-yard drive ending early in the 2nd quarter on a Tom Michaels off-tackle smash. But the Scarlet rebounded before halftime with a 77-yard drive of its own, with a Bill Speranza-Lee Curley aerial for 37 yards providing the points.

Completely throttling Delaware, Rutgers got two touchdowns from Sam Mudie to take the lead, 19-13 in the third period and went 94 yards on Speranza's play-calling for a 27-13 lead. Delaware scored a late TD on Vic Niemi's short run.

VILLANOVA PROSPECTS

Lettermen Returning: 13; Lettermen Lost: 16

It is difficult to match an 8-2 mark which includes a Sun Bowl win. Alex Bell has fine hands returning, but feels he has problems at center and tackle. However, Billy Joe and Lou Rettino give him a solid one-two punch at fullback and Richie Richman and Ted Aceto form a dangerous quarterback duo.

Richman is the same gent who wrecked Rutgers in 1960 and was the key player in the last loss Rutgers suffered prior to the 1962 season. Although Villanova may not be as big as in 1961, it could be faster and deeper.

THE LAST GAME: Villanova 14, Rutgers 12 (1960)

Villanova came to Rutgers Stadium winless and on the heels of a 54-0 thrashing by Army. Rutgers, on the other hand, had a 5-0 record. The situation was ripe for an upset, and that's what happened. Rutgers missed several 1st quarter chances, then capitalized on a fumble for a 6-0 lead early in the 2nd period.

However, Villanova came back to take a 7-6 halftime lead on a pass from Richie Richman and narrowly missed another TD before the half. After a scoreless third quarter, Villanova made it 14-6 on a fullback smash, but Rutgers retaliated quickly on a 47-yard run by Steve Simms to make it 14-12. The two-point run failed and the Scarlet failed to threaten any more.

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 6; Lettermen Lost: 19

After the glories of 1961, which included winning the Ivy League championship, Columbia will have to depend on reserves and sophomores maturing in a hurry to continue prospering. Only two linemen return.

Archie Roberts, a gifted sophomore, is touted as another of Columbia's fine quarterbacks, a la Benham, Rossides, etc. Tom O'Conner, a bruising runner, and Tony Day, one the east's best guards, are the Lion standouts.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 32, Columbia 19

The 1962 game may go down as one of football's great stories. Rutgers, bidding for its first undefeated season in 93 years, fell behind, 19-7, in the third quarter. In 33 plays from the ensuing kickoff, the Scarlet had taken a 26-19 lead and in two more plays was ahead, 32-19.

Two pass interceptions and one long drive gave the Lions one field goal and two touchdowns. Meanwhile, Rutgers could muster only one long march, all on the ground.

A 58-yard kickoff return after Columbia took its big lead late in the third period (by Dave Brody) sparked the Rutgers rally. On the first play of the 4th quarter, Bill Speranza hit Lee Curley for a 10-yard TD. Pierce Frauenheim's pass interception set up a Speranza TD to tie it, 19-19, at 4:31. At 11:28, Steve Simms scored from three yards out for a 26-19 lead and Frauenheim took a pass interception all the way for the final score.

VIRGINIA'S PROSPECTS

Lettermen Returning: 21; Lettermen Lost: 10

The Virginia story for 1962 is put succinctly by Coach Bill Elias: "The get-acquainted year is over for coaches and players and we now have a fine organization." This follows Elias' first year at Virginia which saw the Cavaliers snap a long losing streak which had run into three seasons.

Operating from a Wing-T, Virginia has ample size and experience returning and is quarterbacked by a native of New Jersey, Gary Cuzzo (Glen Ridge). The top players are expected to be 240-pound tackle Dave Graham and fullback Doug Thomson.

THE LAST GAME: Virginia 7, Rutgers 0 (1920)

Rutgers played four "southern" teams in 1920 season, beating Maryland and V.P.I., but losing to Virginia and West Virginia. The Cavaliers scored once early in the game and had to fend off repeated Scarlet surges to preserve a 7-0 advantage.

FOOTBALL'S FIRST GAME

The first official inter-collegiate football game was played on Nov. 6, 1869, between Rutgers and Princeton. There were 25 men on a side and goals, rather than touchdowns were scored. Rutgers won the inaugural, 6-4, with the game played on the site now occupied by the Rutgers Gymnasium.

Although the game was much like rugby, it was the fore-runner of present day football. Soon, Columbia, Yale and other schools began to play and the game pioneered in New Brunswick has become one of the world's most exciting spectacles.

To recognize New Brunswick as football's birthplace, sportswriters, football officials and fans in 1949 selected the city for the location of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. A major drive is expected to be launched this year for funds to construct the building, which will be located several hundred yards north of Rutgers Stadium.

It is interesting to note that William J. Leggett, captain of Rutgers first team, later became a distinguished clergyman of the Dutch Reformed Church. His counterpart, William Gunnere of Princeton, later became chief justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

Football people are proud that so many of the game's standout players become standout citizens. It is their firm belief that football is one of the prime contributors in molding the character and personalities of our future leaders.
